

New Lenox trustees annex plot

'Red Ball' to assist volunteers

MOKENA — "Operation Red Ball," sponsored by the Mokena Keenett Girls 4-H Club, is given full support by the Mokena Volunteer Fire Department as a move to save youngsters from injury or death as a result of fire.

The Red Ball program works like this. The red ball is really a circular decal, four inches in diameter and red on both sides.

If there is a child in a household, one of these red balls would be placed in the upper left hand corner of a window in his bedroom.

If two or more youngsters occupy the same rooms additional decals would be affixed to the window, one for each child. In the event there is an invalid in the home one of these red balls would be placed on the front door.

"It's a great idea," said Fire Chief Fred Rauch. "It is not uncommon when one arrives at a house fire to have a parent running about crying, 'I've got two kids in there.' But can't tell you where. The Red Ball pinpoints the child's location for us."

National surveys show that small children usually hide under their beds or in bedroom closets when fire breaks out, instead of attempting to escape from the house, Chief Rauch said. And sometimes, having been overcome by smoke, children are found in their beds.

Initially the Red Balls will be distributed by the 4-H girls at Ordman's Park and Shop on Wolf Road in Mokena, this Saturday, Jan. 15, starting at 9 a.m., according to the club leaders, Mrs. Robert Hunniford and Mrs. Carl Neuls.

Persons who do not get the decals Saturday can pick them up next week at the Mokena Village Hall or the Mokena Fire House, both in the same block on Front Street.

"The whole fire department will be looking for the Red Balls," Chief Rauch said. "If their use will save one life it will be a wonderful thing."

NEW LENOX — As expected, zoning was the major business to come up at a recent meeting of the New Lenox village board. The trustees adopted an ordinance annexing approximately 102 acres which Leavitt and Son, of Schiller Park, have turned over to the Arlington Grove Development Corporation. Also adopted was ordinance zoning the acreage R-3, which permits multiple family dwellings.

No action was taken on the proposed annexation of approximately 18 acres along U.S. 30, between the Clark service station and I-80, which is owned by the heirs of the late State Senator Richard J. Barr.

Mary Barr West, Richard J. Jr. and William G. Barr. They want C-3 (commercial) zoning for the property. A pre-annexation agreement was drawn up but before the village board can take final action and adopt a zoning ordinance, the agreement must have the signatures of the Barrs, who were in different parts of the country last week.

If the pre-annexation agreement has been signed by next week, Village Attorney Wayne Johnson said, the board could take action at its next meeting.

The board has also accepted the recommendation of the plan commission for C-2 zoning of the 90 acre tract comprising the Providence High School site, west of the village. The pre-annexation agreement with the school is now slated for action by the board. C-2 zoning includes the use to which the property is now being put.

According to the agreement signed by the developers of the 102 acres, south and west of the Lincoln-Way Shopping Center, the number of dwelling units has been reduced from the 1,280 Leavitt and Son had originally planned to 950, which spread over the acreage would give a density of 9.31 per acre.

There are three phases in the proposed building program. Phase 1 calls for building single family residences on 13 acres and condominiums, townhouses and four-plexes on 17 acres.

In Phase two single family dwellings will be built on 17 acres and condominiums, etc., on 30 acres.

Also in Phase two, five acres are to be set aside for park purposes. Phase three calls for apartments on 20 acres.

A summary shows there are to be 140 single family dwellings on 30 acres; 510 condominiums, etc., on 47 acres; 317 apartments on 20 acres. Adding in the five acres for parks one arrives at the 102 acre total.

Under the agreement no apartments are to be started until 50 per cent of the single family dwellings, and condominiums, townhouses and four-plexes are in the final stage of construction.

In the agreement with the Barrs they are to pay the village $38,500 for sewer and water tap-ins within 30 days of the final annexation.

Nutter essay wins

MOKENA — Two Lincoln-Way students, Mark Nutter, Mokena, and Chris Manheim, New Lenox, placed first and third, respectively, in the Voice of Democracy Essay contest sponsored by Cantigny Post, VFW, Joliet.

As a result of winning the local contest Nutter's essay will be one of those considered in the District competition Jan. 16 at Joliet. The state winner's essay will be sent to Washington, D.C. to compete for national honors.

Mark credits his English teacher, Mrs. Marylyn Grabowski, with moving him to enter the contest. Mark is active in drama classes and is chairman of "Man and his visions" committee for his humanities class.

His essay, entitled, "My Responsibility to Freedom," follows:

"I am an individual. I speak for myself. It would be foolish of me to try to be the voice of everyone in America. And so when I speak of 'my responsibility to freedom,' it is a personal statement springing from my own personal experience and that's all I intend it to be. However, if perhaps you find yourself agreeing with something I say because of your own personal experience...well then my talk will be worthwhile.

"My responsibility to freedom...is to understand it. Only if I am able to realize fully what this thing is will I be capable of doing what must be done to preserve it.

"Now when I speak of freedom, I'm not talking simply of the freedom of speech, of religion, the freedom to assemble, and all the other specific rights guaranteed in the amendments to the constitution. The word has a much broader application.

"Here in America I am guaranteed freedom from fear and worry. I don't have to be preoccupied with my survival, because I will be provided for in this land of plenty. So many people in the world live in constant anxiety, wondering where tomorrow's meal will come from, if indeed they eat at all tomorrow.

"And hunger isn't the only concern that can mar a person's existence. Fear of violence and loss of home are also specters that haunt the lives of millions in the war torn areas of the world, Vietnam, the Middle East, and most recently, East Pakistan.

"But I am spared these fears, as is most everyone else in America. This leaves me with all the time in the world to contemplate and discuss the nature of my freedom. In addition to being granted survival, I am allowed to be myself. I can go around doing what I want to do, but with one important restriction—under no circumstances am I permitted to diminish the freedom of anyone else in anyway. It's as simple as that.

"But nevertheless, I see people everywhere ignoring the rights of others and imposing their own selfish desires on many individuals. I ask myself, why? Why, if everyman is guaranteed the right to 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness,' are so many Americans receiving only a small portion of the freedom they deserve?

"My only conclusion is lack of understanding. I think I understand. And with this comprehension comes the knowledge that much effort is involved in preserving freedom—effort that must be used to hold in our selfish desires for self-gratification at the expense of others. Because if a true understanding is not motivating our actions, we may allow other misunderstanding individuals to come to power, and possibly remove our most basic liberty—the freedom from fear.

"I really don't know how complete my comprehension of freedom is. But I do know this much. I am, at this moment, fulfilling a part of my responsibility by trying to communicate, by reaching out, by making an effort to touch someone else and say, 'For God's sake, STOP! and understand.'"

Borg-Warner manager to head chamber board

FRANKFORT — The board of directors of the Frankfort Chamber of Commerce has elected new officers for the coming year. The directors met in the public library where they decided on Herman Fabiana, manufacturing manager of the Borg-Warner plant here, which is known as the Brummer Division.

Chosen as vice president is Jack Rohatsof the Tri-State Cut-stone Co., and the treasurer is Harold H. Slocum, retired, who has taken a leading part in the repair and rehabilitation of apparel and household appliances which are sold by a group of young Methodist people.

The secretary elected is Helen Dopudja, who is employed by the Brummer Division of Borg-Warner.

Head-on-crash, icy skid places seven in hospital

MOKENA — Two accidents Friday night put seven area residents in Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet.

The first crash came at about 6 p.m. at Kluth Drive and Wolf Road, which is near the top of the hill at the south edge of Mokena. Cars driven by Mrs. Barbara Williams, 40, Rt. 1, New Lenox, and Mrs. Sara Ezell, 18737 Marjorie Lane, Arby Hills, northwest of Mokena, met head on.

Mokena Police Chief Harold Fitch, who covered the accident, said Mrs. Williams was given a ticket, charging improper lane usage. She was driving south of Wolf Road and her car was partially in the northbound lane, according to the police report. Both women were hospitalized, with serious injuries.

The other accident took place sometime later on Regan Road, New Lenox Township. Five teenagers, all of New Lenox, were reported seriously injured when the car in which they were driving skidded on an icy patch, went out of control and struck a tree.

County police, who covered the accident, with an assist by state police, said three of the five occupants of the small car had to be cut out of the wreckage. Two were thrown out of the vehicle.

Deputies were unable to question the victims long enough to get details. It was reported that Alan Hedges, 16, 1329 N. Cedar Road, was the driver. The other occupants were, Terry Darnell, 16, 134 Inner Court; Steven Watson, 14, 147 Maple Drive, John Skiniotes, 14, 129 W. Francis Road and Gerald Johnson, 14, 134 W. Francis Road.

Robert Wilhelm, 14, Regan Road, was doing a chore for his mother that took him out of the back door about 8:45 p.m. He heard someone calling for help and running around to the front of the house he could see the wrecked car and immediately summoned assistance.

Mrs. Wilhelm told this reporter that they did not hear any noise but believed that the crash may have occurred shortly before her son went out doors and heard the calls for help.

The car was a compact.

Frankfort annexes for 'self-defense'

FRANKFORT — Self-defense is one of the major reasons for its "lateral expansion move," as Village Attorney August J. Santoro referred to the strip annexation ordinances adopted by the village board at its recent meeting.

Neighboring communities are stretching out their tentacles along the highways in the hope that such moves may aid them in actual annexation of territory bordering such routes. To protect its own interests the Frankfort Plan Commission and the village board also have made similar moves.

Santoro pointed out to the village board that strip annexation has not met any conclusive court tests and it is quite possible that someone might contest it and the courts decide in his favor.

The strip annexation (lateral expansion) advocates are basing their moves on a statute that says if an ordinance is not attacked within a year of its passage it cannot be attacked later.

Eight such ordinances were adopted by the Frankfort board last week.

Ordinance 740 annexes the Penn Central tracks from Wolf Road to Ridgeland Avenue.

Ordinance 741 annexes the E. J. & E. tracks from Wolf Road to Ridgeland Avenue.

Ordinance 742 annexes Laraway Road to Center Street.

Ordinance 743 annexes 116th Avenue south to Steger Road.

Ordinance 744 annexes Wolf Road from Laraway to Steger Road.

Ordinance 745 annexes U.S. 45 to Steger Road.

Ordinance 746 annexes Pfeiffer Road from U.S. 30 to Steger Road.

Ordinance 747 annexes Harlem Avenue from U.S. 30 to Sauk Trail.

Only roads or railroad right of way is annexed. No attempt has been made to annex bordering property.

New Lenox well, pump bids called for Jan. 19

NEW LENOX — Bids on a new well and pump for the New Lenox water works will be opened at 2 p.m. Jan. 19 in the village hall, according to John Djerf of Robert E. Hamilton Associates, village engineers.

The bids will be submitted to the village board at its regular meeting that night. The well is to have a 10-inch casing and it is expected it will be drilled to a depth of approximately 300 feet. The pump is to have a capacity of 400 gallons per minute. The well is to be located south of Hickory Creek, west of Cedar Road.

Djerf reported at the last meeting of the village board that the new cle-vated storage is practically ready for use. It is to have a final sterilization, a hook-up with the water lines and some electrical work is to be done, Djerf said.

Djerf also reported that work on expanding the capacity of the sewage treatment plant to three times its original size is almost completed.

Any grievances or questions police officers have about pay can be taken to the police board, it was decided by the trustees. Members of the police board are Trustee Earl Schroeder, chairman of the police committee, Mayor Joseph Hartung and Dr. Lowell Webb.

Great fun !

It was all giggles for Sharon Guill when she had her face painted during the annual fall PTA fun fair at Mokena's Willowcrest Grade School. Funds from the event went into the PTA treasury for use in the budget, scholarship and a gift for the school.

New Tinley village trustee

Rea studies consumer bills

TINLEY PARK — Pat Rea, recently appointed village trustee, (chairman of Public Service), is contemplating introduction to the village board of new consumer ordinances.

Rea told the Times HERALD that he feels the consumer, or, public, is entitled to the best protection that the village can offer, and, although the ordinances will probably not win any popularity contests in the field involved, he feels that passage by the board would be beneficial to Tinley Park residents.

The new ordinances will follow those carried by the City of Chicago, and enforcement will thus be simplified, according to Rea.

The ordinances are as follows: ambulance, fire prevention and fire bureau, gasoline stations, meat grading, fruits and vegetables, weight and scale ordinances, deceptive practices, fast foods and commercial practices.

The ambulance and fire prevention ordinances have been requested by the Fire Department. The county and state have fire ordinances, however, the request is for a more extensive village ordinance, which would probably include a full time fire marshal.

It is hoped that one of the ordinances would restrict, or, eliminate, trucking of explosives and hazardous chemicals through town. Intrastate trucking would be determined by the fire chief. Another item to be restricted would be above ground storage of bulk gasoline.

Also included would be requirements for automatic sprinkler systems, fire hydrants, and listing of research octane rating.

Deceptive advertising practices would be curtailed.

Fruits and vegetables would be sold strictly by weight and not by the bunch. Weights and measurement of frozen foods must conform to after cooking, rather than prior to cooking.

Rea said that, "frozen shrimp is sold in packages marked one pound, however, after cooking, the weight is usually reduced to about 11 ounces."

If Rea's proposals are accepted by a majority of the board members, Tinley Park consumers will have unlisted protection, as consumers and residents.

Rea has been in contact with Jim Knowland, assistant commissioner of Sales and Weights, Chicago Bureau.

District 228 seek grants

BREMEN TOWNSHIP — Bremen Community High School District 228, Midlothian, has filed an application for a federal grant under Title III, Elementary and Secondary Education Act, according to Superintendent John M. Flynn.

The program for which the grant has been requested is entitled "Project M.O.T.I.V.A.T.E. — Motivational Opportunities Toward Individual Values, Attitudes, Training and Education," Flynn noted.

"The purpose is to improve the attitudes of students toward school and toward themselves by means of increased motivation and goal setting," Flynn added.

Norman A. Polasky, Director of State and Federal Programs, has been named as project coordinator for the activity proposed. The program has been designed to operate over a period of three years, starting on July 1, 1972, and running until June 30, 1975, Polasky said. The total amount of funding requested for the program is $268,700.

"Many people contributed to the findings and decisions represented by this proposal," Flynn points out. "Our Feasibility Committee includes school board members, school administration, faculty and student body participants, plus business, government, non-profit private schools, parents and people from the community at large," he said.

"A strong base for quality education and equal educational opportunities for every student must be built upon carefully designed objectives or goals, well-organized plans of action, proper organizational structure, financial support, adequate communication line, and carefully designed and planned procedures to insure constructive improvement," Flynn explained.

"More than two years of work have gone into this effort to identify the needs of the students and to select a wise course of action," Polasky revealed.

Approval of the preliminary request is anticipated in February, with final project approval scheduled for April. Implementation of Project Motivate would be in July.

On second thought

To junk or not to junk

By Glenn Logan

We — and by that I mean the staff of the HERALD of Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox based in Mokena office on Wolf Road — are on the point of moving to new quarters. As moves go it will be a short one — just around the corner in the same building — but any move has its problems.

And most such problems will fit into one question — what to do with the junk?

That, of course, is the principal question that confronts everyone who moves, be it homeowner, business or industry. Everyone collects junk in time, regardless of good intentions or rules.

Things just seem to accumulate. We realize this as we begin to sort out things preparatory to moving to our new quarters. We really do not have a lot to move, some desks, typewriters, a couple of radios, chairs — a very few chairs — and some odds-and-ends. As you can see this move is not a federal project.

It should be pretty easy but for one thing — what to keep and what to throw away. There was a time when a good bonfire would have taken care of a lot of stuff but under the state laws as interpreted by the Environmental Protection Agency such a fire is a no-no. No waste, not even leaves may be legally burned, it was brought out in a recent report, in towns where the population exceeds 1,000.

There are shelves in the back room that must be cleared. Some of the items they contain will be moved but there are countless forms no longer used, odd sizes of paper we once thought of a use for but have since forgotten, reports of various state agencies — why they weren't thrown away long ago is beyond me — statistics based on past census takings, several volumes of Illinois Blue Books now quite out of date, a stack of magazines dealing with photography, a stack of Reader Digests.

Fortunately the office does not subscribe to any of the news magazines of the National Geographic, or there would be stacks and stacks of those too.

But the shelves in the back room are really nothing. It is my desk that has me backed into a corner. It's loaded. The top is covered with papers, notes, reminders, and a few books. It takes a little searching sometimes but I generally can find what I'm looking for. Am happy to report that today I finally found the desk proper.

As desks go in this trade this one is not too formidable. Now when Mrs. Margaret Semmler was the owner, publisher and editor of the papers serving Mokena, Frankfort, New Lenox, Tinley Park and Orland Park she maintained a desk that really stood out.

Besides having the surface heaped a foot or so around the edges she had a rack of pigeon-holes against the wall behind her chair. There were about 20 of these storage spaces and 19 of them were stuffed to capacity with papers of various kinds. The 20th cubbyhole was reserved for Timmy, a toy fox terrier when he dropped in for a visit.

One time when Mrs. Semmler was away on vacation her daughters decided to do their kind deed for the day. They cleaned off the desk, discarding some of the material that appeared to carry only scrawls (it was Mrs. Semmler's private shorthand) and piled the rest of it up in neat stacks.

When Mrs. Semmler returned she didn't exactly break into song at the change. It took her a couple of months to find the things she wanted. When papers were heaped in piles as before she could find anything instantly. It took her more months to get the cubbyholes in proper order again so she could locate things there.

That's what I'm afraid will happen when we move, that I will discover that the things I should have thrown away I have kept and the things I have kept I should have thrown away.

One of the things thrown away were lists of candidates in state and district elections from 1958 through 1965, keeping those from 1965 on for no good reason. We also gave up an Illinois digest of the hunting, fishing and trapping laws for 1960, some old PTA programs from various places, some old Southwest Suburban basketball schedules dating back to the early 60's but have kept most of the stuff on hand.

I probably will wind up putting the contents of drawers in cardboard boxes and placing it on shelves in the new office. This will make all the desk drawers empty and waiting to be filled again.

Why save things a lot of people ask. And if criticism is implied there is some justification for it. Why indeed, should one clutter up space with this and that? No explanation is needed for those who make a practice of saving things. For the more practical side, the answer is also simple. The antique business is a thriving one. Right? Well, if some people hadn't saved things there wouldn't be any antiques.

By golly, I better check those wastebaskets again. Perhaps I was hasty in discarding ... one man's junk may become another's pride and joy.

Coroner is making changes

Some responsiveness — presumably — is better than none at all, and for that reason we're encouraged by a recent pledge for reform in the office of Cook County Coroner Andrew J. Toman.

Toman announced that he'll seek legislation to institute several changes in his office, and will effect other changes on his own.

The primary thrust of the legislation — which will be introduced when the Illinois General Assembly gets back into action — will be to abolish the coroner's jury, which now is picked from a special list compiled by Toman's office.

Under the new plan, jurors needed for inquests would be supplied from the general Circuit Court pool of jurors, and their pay would be increased from $2.65 per case to $10 per day.

The legislation also would permit the naming of special hearing officers to ultimately replace the deputy coroners.

On his own, Toman is planning to have deputy coroners — until they may be replaced — undergo special training in the medical, investigative and legal functions of the office, something that obviously should be a prerequisite for serving.

By Feb. 1, he expects to have a list of volunteer lawyers available from the Chicago Bar Assn. to serve without pay as special hearing officers to conduct sensitive or complex inquests.

This is all for the good because — as we've stated many times before — if ever there was an office that needed reform, it is the Cook County Coroner's Office.

The whole coroner system, in fact, we oppose as an antiquated and inefficient — and often pointless — carryover from another age.

We much prefer the medical examiner system, with an appointive office and a dedication to scientific determination of cause of death whenever there are suspicious circumstances. The way is clear for that kind of change in Illinois under the new constitution.

Until that change comes, we endorse Toman's move for reform, and hope he carries through before the General Assembly.

Shoplifting is everyone's fight

Shoplifting is becoming a major problem for which all honest consumers pay.

A check of three stores in Morton revealed that anywhere from $10,600 to $13,000 is lost annually by those three stores and the ultimate cost of those crimes is paid by the honest consumer.

Obviously, the losses from shoplifting or other shortages cannot be absorbed by the merchant. His only alternative is to adjust his prices so that the losses can be neutralized.

The adjusted price is that paid by the remainder of the customers. It's an inflated price but a necessary one.

In some circles, shoplifting, swiping or "ripping off", whatever its called, has become socially acceptable. How many parents have been told by their children that they swiped someone's something because his or her something was stolen.

That probably rings a familiar bell to many. It's stealing.

To generalize, children are most often caught shoplifting. The adult professionals are the ones who are generally not caught.

What can we do about it. We can make sure our children know that shoplifting or stealing, in any form, is wrong and cannot be condoned. We can urge merchants to execute their right to prosecute all shoplifters without discrimination. We can support our law enforcement agencies in their efforts to enforce the laws.

Remember, we as consumers must foot the bill. We must not only pay the bill for the loss of merchandise through mark-ups but we must also pay for the service of store security and education of clerks to watch for shoplifters.

Garbage may pay off for this community

The famous town whose citizens supported themselves by taking in each other's laundry was purely mythical, of course. But there's a for-real town in Virginia that hopes to solve its economic problems by taking in garbage from Washington, Baltimore and other nearby big cities.

Craigsville, a Shenandoah Valley community with a population of 978 the last time anybody looked, is converting an abandoned cement plant into a regional garbage recycling center which could provide 100 new jobs and a $1-million payroll.

The operation, scheduled to start in January, will involve the separation of refuse into its basic components — paper (usually about 50 percent per ton), food scraps (11 percent), bottles (7 percent), steel cans (4 percent) and so on.

The steel cans will be converted into magnetite, a material used in the processing of coal and which sells for $30 to $40 a ton. Other materials that are not sold for recycling will either be shredded into a growing medium for mushrooms or used as fuel in the cans-into magnetite process.

At first, closed railroad cars will bring in about 500 tons of garbage a day. Craigsville plans for an eventual daily input of 10,000 tons, which is about the amount generated by four million people.

If the idea works — and if it does it will be a model for every other community in the nation, especially as landfill acreage runs out — the folks in Craigsville may want to erect a Statue of Garbage bearing some such inscription as:

"Send me your junk, your scrap, the wretched refuse of your teeming affluence. Send this, the homeless, trashcan — tossed to me. I lift my lamp beside the golden recycling plant."

No exemptions for homestead in 1972

COOK COUNTY — Assessor of Cook County P.J. Cullerton was permanently enjoined recently from applying the homestead exemption to 1971 assessments for real estate taxes payable in 1972.

The injunction, issued by a judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County, will prevent Assessor Cullerton from granting a $1500 reduction in the equalized assessed valuation of homes owned by persons over the age of sixty-five. The exemption would have meant a savings of $1-- for each property owner.

"It is important to note," Cullerton said, "that the judge's decree and order specified that we may not issue the homestead exemption in 1971 for taxes payable in 1972. We will, however, be able to apply this exemption to 1972 assessments payable in 1973.

This is the second time the homestead exemption has been declared unconstitutional. A previous law, the homestead exemption of 1970, was declared null and void in the Circuit Court of Cook County and that decision was upheld by the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois.

The Illinois State Legislature this year again passed a new homestead exemption law for 1971. It was this 1971 law which was again declared unconstitutional.

The ruling apparently applies not only to Cook County, but to all counties in the state since the Department of Local Governmental Affairs was an intervening defendant in the case.

The basis of the judge's decision was that the law was not applicable under the 1870 Illinois Constitution and that the new state constitution did not take effect until July 1 of this year. This also apparently explains why the Assessor will be able to proceed with issuing the exemptions for 1972.

Cullerton's Chief Deputy Assessor, Thomas M. Tully, said that his office would prepare immediately to set up the machinery necessary to issue applications for the 1972 exemptions. This function was formerly performed by the Board of Appeals and is now under the jurisdiction of the Assessor.

"While this case was in litigation for 1971 the judge directed the assessor not to proceed with any of the mechanics of printing or issuing applications for the homestead exemption," Tully said.

Tully said his staff is setting up a special department to begin implementation of the homestead exemption for assessments in 1972 on taxes payable in 1973.

"We will have to assign personnel to the new department, print applications, and install special telephone lines to service the more than 100,000 taxpayers who qualify for this exemption next year," Tully said. "We would hope to have the department fully functioning by the first of next year," he added.

Tully said that applications for the homestead exemption will automatically be mailed to those property owners who had applied for the 1970 homestead exemption. The new applications will be sent out in the mail after January 1, 1972.

Tully advised citizens who qualify for the homestead exemption to watch their news media for further details concerning this exemption.

VA offering special help for Viet vets

The Veterans Administration plans special help for Vietnam veterans who draw unemployment compensation 13 weeks or longer.

John B. Naser, Director, VA Regional Office in Chicago, said that a plan worked out with Mr. John M. Linton, employment security administrator, Illinois Department of Labor, provides that state employment security agencies give VA names, addresses, telephone, social security and service serial numbers of the unemployed veterans.

John B. Naser explained that VA, through its 72 Veterans Assistance Centers and other facilities, then makes several contacts with the veteran to interest him in going to school or taking on-the-job training (OJT) under the G.I. Bill.

The agency has been promoting education and OJT for some time as one means of reducing unemployment among Vietnam veterans. However, John B. Naser pointed out, this latest plan enables VA to more effectively identify veterans, especially the disadvantaged, who are in need of jobs.

Although finding jobs is not a primary responsibility of the VA, the agency helps in any way it can, and is a leader in hiring veterans under the Veterans Readjustment Appointment Authority. VA has hired 5,000 veterans since 1968.

Through specialists in its veterans assistance centers VA found jobs for nearly 15,000 veterans in fiscal year 1971, and for about 45,000 veterans since 1968.

Other job-assisting activities are carried out through the agency's "Outreach Program," job marts, job banks, job counseling, job interview classes and cooperation with the President's National Committee on Jobs for Veterans.

got, or just had a hangnail as an excuse for not giving a pint of blood.

Getting mad? Good, but don't get mad at the program. It's here to help you and your whole family. Get mad at using commercial blood. Get so mad that you will take the time to meet your friends and neighbors at the next blood draw and do your part to help to get rid of the need for commercial blood by having helped make possible an adequate supply of good donated blood. When the use of commercial blood has ended and ill fortune befalls someone that you care about and they need blood you can be certain that only good blood will be used.

You can do your part this Friday, Jan. 14, from 5-10 p.m. at the Oak Forest High School A large turnout is needed if the program is to continue. Don't leave it up to someone else. The program cannot last if you do.

If you have little ones, come and bring them along. Free babysitters are provided; so is free transportation if you need that. Call 532-2804 for an appointment and if you don't have a phone just come on over anyway.

As stated in your recent edition of the Times HERALD, I take notice with deep regret of the fact that Mr. Ray H. Garrison (Flossmoor), former Con-Con delegate (8th District) and announced Republican candidate for state representative in the new 9th legislative district was pressured and forced by certain local GOP party leaders to withdraw his name from the March 21, 1972, Republican primary ballot.

Historically, a primary election is a party election with separate ballots for each political party. At primary time, candidates are nominated to run against the opposition party candidates in the general election. Each state, including Illinois, establishes its own procedures governing primary elections.

The main purpose of a primary election is to give all voters an opportunity to choose candidates of the party of their choice. The "open primary" best achieves this goal. Open primaries allow the people a direct choice from a number of candidates.

Certain south suburban Republican party leaders, primarily the Rich Township Committee, Everett Klipp, have aborted this "openness" and selected their own hand-picked slate many weeks ago; thwarted independent party opposition and will impose their own slate upon the electorate on Primary Election Day. This action is a splendid example of narrow mindedness, flagrant party bossism, and violation of the Republican Party expression of self-reliance and freedom. These bossism tactics will cause our youth to become further disillusioned with both the governmental and political processes.

Without contested primaries, there is no rationale for the primary process itself. Economically, we would be better off utilizing a party caucus system, thereby saving Illinois taxpayers thousands of dollars every two years.

Is there any wonder why people stay away from the polls on Primary Day?

Intern applications available

OAK FOREST — The clerk's office, 15601 S. Cicero Ave., is currently accepting applications for the student intern position provided by a state grant. The position is open to any student at a college or university in Illinois interested in political science and village government.

Applications will be accepted until Saturday, Jan. 15, and are available from the clerk's office.

Scariano tells 'no-fault' plan

PARK FOREST — State Representative Anthony Scariano (D-Park Forest) announced today he is re-introducing a bill to provide Illinois citizens with a workable "no-fault" insurance plan which could reduce the cost of automobile insurance for Illinois motorists by as much as 25 per cent.

Scariano said the bill he is introducing would avoid constitutional defects in legislation sponsored by Governor Ogilvie and approved last year by the Illinois General Assembly.

The law was declared unconstitutional by Judge Daniel A. Covel on December 29 and is currently being appealed to the State Supreme Court.

Scariano, candidate for the State Senate in the 9th district, said the bill he is introducing would meet criteria of the U.S. Department of Transportation by substituting expeditious no-fault insurance for cumbersome fault insurance.

Scariano's bill, drafted by Law Professors Jeffrey O'Connell of the University of Illinois and Robert E. Keeton of Harvard University, guarantees $10,000 worth of no-fault benefits to all traffic victims with a corresponding elimination of claims based on fault.

The Park Forest legislator said the bill also allows each motorist to opt for complete no-fault benefits covering all losses, with a corresponding elimination of all claims based on fault.

In addition, he said, it also extends the no-fault system to property damage, something Governor Ogilvie's plan fails to do.

Scariano criticized Ogilvie's plan because, he said, that while it provides for some no-fault benefits, it keeps the right of everyone to still sue under a fault claim.

"Under the Ogilvie law," Scariano said, "all of us are required to have two insurance policies covering the same range of loss: one for no-fault claims by us, and a second for fault claims against us."

"It is significant that Governor Ogilvie's plan of having both fault and no-fault claims applicable to every accident, large or small, is contrary to the criteria for no-fault insurance advanced recently by President Nixon's Administration through the U.S. Department of Transportation," Scariano said. "The Governor thereby keeps much of the waste, inefficiency and corruption of the fault system," he added.

"The mistake in Governor Ogilvie's 'reform' can be best demonstrated in this way," the veteran South Suburban legislator explained: "Under the fault system of auto insurance, I insure myself for paying your losses if I am at fault, and you insure yourself for paying my losses if you are at fault. But the question of 'who is at fault' is so difficult to solve that insurance companies have long extended the option of some no-fault cover-ages whereby I can insure coverage for myself and my family regardless of who was at fault in the accident and you can insure coverage for yourself and your family regardless of fault. But these supplemental no-fault coverages (which only apply to car damage and limited medical expenses) in no way lessen the need for — or payment under — fault insurance payable to those in the other car.

Scariano pioneered in no-fault insurance when he introduced the original Keeton-O'Connell bill in the Illinois General Assembly in 1967.

Arrest one in gambling raid

OAK FOREST — Oak Forest police arrested a local service station owner in a gambling raid on a service station Christmas Eve.

Arrested at Dunker's Service Station was George Roesner. Police charged Roesner with being the keeper of a gambling house.

Working on a tip a police officer dressed in plain clothes went to the station to purchase gas. While at the station the officer noticed a large group of men in the station, some of them sitting at tables playing cards.

The officer then signaled to other police who were waiting in the vicinity of the station, and the police moved in and identified themselves.

Police confiscated cards, a pair of dice, and $167.45 in cash in the raid.

A Thought To Remember BY BOB HIRSCH

Astronaut Stafford said, "If we harness our energies and if our perspective is right, our goals are unlimited." It seems superb leadership and united effort is all we need. However, we should remember the implied caution to have a "right perspective."

Our space teams are sure of their perspectives by already scheduling future flights - up to and perhaps beyond Apollo 20 to explore geologic sites on the moon. We know life does not and can not exist there. Scientists are skeptical that life, as we know it, exists on Mars. For exploration purposes, the certainty of subsequently placing a man on Mars is no longer a crazy dream of science fiction writers. Scientists also know the atmosphere of carbon dioxide on Venus is about 100 times as dense as that of earth; surface temperatures are as high as 800 degrees. So, let's keep a realistic, a right perspective. Let's not be carried away with wild talk and wishful thinking that we or future generations may become settlers in extraterrestrial bodies...

Whadamabid?

Mokena Auctioneer Norman Strassenburg advertises his business as "complete auction service", and sometime during each 12-month period Norm will call a sale for nearly every type of household and farm item.

Early in the fall Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Rice of Palos Park had Norm call their household sale held at the Frankfort Legion hall. Items included: sofas, Xmas tree stand, handmade children's rockers, 1883 kerosene lamp, commode, set of studded snow tires, Pontiac hardtop in "excellent condition". All was "good quality merchandise in good useable condition," according to the auctioneer.

In the fall the weather was nice and the bidders, attended in their shirt sleeves. But now, the farm auctions have taken over and the sales are held out-of-doors and the auctioneer commands this audience's attention from the bed of a hay wagon, the tongue of a manure spreader or the stall of a dairy barn.

Wherever the auctioneer's "Whadamabid?" question comes from the auction will be lively and the sales quick . . . 10-degree temperatures are part of the farm auction scene.

Tinley wrestlers rally to tie Stagg

PALOS HILLS — Trailing throughout the meet the Tinley Park wrestling team got a second period pin from heavy-weight Rich Aggen to end with a 20-20 tie against Stagg Friday.

The Titans had gone into the final match of the day trailing 20-14, and making a pin, worth six team points, a must for a tie.

Aggen responded to the challenge by pinning his man in 1:57 of the second round. The Titans trailed from the outset until the Aggen match.

Tom Pesavento lost 7-0 at 98-pounds, and Mike Kalas, dropped a 5-2 decision at 105 as the Titans trailed 6-0 after two matches.

Tom Brocius gave the Titans their first team points winning 5-2 at 112, but Mel Sneddon lost 6-4 at 119-pounds as Stagg took a 9-3 lead. Joe Gabler lost 8-5 at 126, but Rick Zolner was a 3-1 winner at 132 pounds.

Randy Reagan won 6-4 at 138-pounds and Bill Frankenberger lost a tough 3-2 decision at 145. Bob Martin posted a 4-0 win to bring them within three points 15-12.

George Miles lost 9-3 at 167 pounds and Mike Meloy battled his man to a 3-3 tie at 185 pounds to set the stage for Aggen's pin. Today, Jan. 11 the Titans host Eisenhower.

Friday the Titans meet Hillcrest at 4 p.m. in Country Club and Richard Saturday at 1:30 in Oak Lawn.

Y offering tot program

The classes are divided into age groups: three-12 months old; 13 months through two years; three to five year olds; and kindergarten and first grade. All classes meet once a week for 10 weeks.

Parents will be given two free guest passes to family swims which are held everyday.

Registrations may be made at the YMCA or by calling 331-6500.

Cheery words

A Tinley Park wrestler gets some words of encouragement from two of the charming misses who are part of the Titan cheerleading squad. The girls were urging their favorite on at an invitational meet in the above instance.

Titan cagers gain split

BRADLEY — The Tinley Park cagers came out of the week's action with a split against two Southeast Conference foes. The Titans posted their first conference win of the season Friday with a 58-46 win over Stagg, and then lost 55-46 to Bradley the following night.

The Titans are now 1-4 in conference and 2-5 for the season. On the bright side of last week's action was the display of balanced scoring by the Titans in both games. Coach Gordon Rodgers was pleased with the balanced attack but said, "we don't have enough of it."

Jack Triezenberg led the way against Stagg with 16 points, followed by Randy Lindstrom with 13, Kirby Bullard with 11 and Steve Bettenhausen with 10.

The Titans jumped out to a 17-4 first quarter lead and were never headed. They tapered off in the second and third quarter before turning on the power for 24 points in the final period.

Against Bradley the Titans led until the third quarter when Bradley rallied for the win. Tinley had a halftime lead of 32-26. Lindstrom paced the attack with 13 points followed by Triezenberg with 10 and Bettenhausen with nine.

Friday, Jan. 14, the Titans host conference foe Hillcrest at 8 p.m.

Eagles sink 2 opponents

ORLAND PARK — The surging Carl Sandburg swimmers racked up two wins last week downing their first conference foe, Bremen, 52-43, and then beating Thornridge by the same score Friday.

Andy Merz was the driving force in the victory over Bremen establishing a new Sandburg record in the 400-yard freestyle, in 4:07.4, breaking All-American Terry Brazel's mark of 4:07.9.

Merz also won the 200-yard freestyle and was a member of the freestyle relay team that decided the meet.

In the meet Dave Prosen posted a first in the 200-yard individual medley and Don Tanis finished first in the 100-yard Butterfly.

With the score 45-43 Sandburg, the Eagle relay team of Merz, Tom Kaptur, Al Gillberg Jr. and George Merijohn shut the door on Bremen posting a time of 3:36.2 to win the relay and meet.

Friday night Sandburg posted its first team victory ever over the Falcons of Thornridge. Al Gillberg Jr. won the 200-yard freestyle and Dave Prosen also won, taking the 200-yard individual medley.

George Merijohn won the 50-yard free style. Ray Zableski took the diving honors and Andy Merz was a first place finisher in the 100-yard butterfly.

George Merijohn won the 100-yard freestyle and Dave Prosen won the 100-yard backstroke.

The Eagles, after starting very slow, now have a winning record and show great potential for future meets.

In the heavyweight division, Orland Park and Arbor Park set the stage for their battle Thursday, January 13th, by maintaining perfect records.

Orland had to come from behind to edge a determined St. Mike's five, 38-35. Marty Murphy was outstanding defensively for Orland while combining with Art Depesa for 19 points. Larry Ferguson and Ray Mollo had 13 and 11 points respectively for the losers.

Arbor, with Joe Holzgethan's 31 points, ran over Palos 50-34. Eugene Leonas hit 11 points for Palos.

Conrad kept pace with the leaders by ripping Kirby 54-39. Stacy Schmidt, Mike Nardleski, and Jeff Hedger totaled 40 points in a balanced effort for Conrad.

Eagles take mat nosedive

ORLAND PARK — The wrestling Eagles of Carl Sandburg went into a nose-dive last weekend losing all three of their matches, one an important southwest suburban meet with Homewood.

Sandburg's record is now 6-6 with a 1-2 mark in conference. Friday against Homewood the Eagles were hurt in the lesser weights coming away with only three wins and a tie in a tough 29-17 loss to the Vikings.

Mike Bronson won on forfeit and Mike Keane tied 2-2. John Walker won at 132, Joe Tholl at 145 and Mark Eirekson at 167.

On Saturday the Eagles traveled to Granite City for a triangular meet against host Granite City and Pekin. Sandburg dropped both matches, however, losing to Granite City 36-12 and Pekin 36-16.

Joe Tholl and Chuck Crettel were the only Eagle winners against Granite, with Mark Butz, Mike Bronson and Mark Eirekson tying.

Butz, Bronson, Walker and Tholl were all winners against Pekin but it wasn't enough.

Tholl, who won all three of his matches over the weekend has upped his record to 9-4.

Tholl also boasts a undefeated conference record of 3-0 and is becoming one of the Eagle's most consistent wrestlers along with standout John Walker and Dwaine Capodice.

There are no fees to be paid for participation in this program.

Providence beaten twice

NEW LENOX — 1972 has not started out on a very bright note for the Providence basketball team. The Celts began 1972 last weekend, and the result was a pair of losses in private league play.

Saturday's loss was particularly disappointing because the Celts lost 77-52 to Walther Lutheran, a team that had a 1-12 season mark going into action against Providence.

Providence hustled against their much taller foes but defensive lapses and a shooting mark of 28 percent resulted in defeat. Walther, on the other hand shot 48 percent and played surprisingly well for a team that had only one victory in its first 13 games.

The loss gives the Celts a 2-3 mark in conference, and a season record of 6-7.

Joe Prieboy led the Celts with 14 points followed by Steve Gant with 13.

Against Luther South, the Celts fell behind in the second half despite nine point first half performances by both Prieboy and Gant which kept Providence in the game.

Providence committed 27 turnovers, and this plus Luther's control of the board set the Celts down to defeat, 84-67.

Prieboy and Gant tied for team scoring honors with 16 points apiece. Friday the Celts host league for Luther North at 8 p.m. and Saturday play a league game against Illiana at Illiana.

The teams next meet will be Jan 19, at Stagg, at 6:30 p.m.

This is the second tournament win for New Lenox in the past two weeks. New Lenox, last year's state champions, won an eight team tourney staged at Des-Plaines the previous week.

Pirko, Ryan key Knights wins over two foes

OAK LAWN — Lincoln-Way swept past two Southwest conference cage foes last week to extend its league mark to 5-1. The Knights, who have only a 70-69 loss to Rich East marring the record beat Evergreen Park, 89-53, and the following night downed Oak Lawn 75-65.

Lincoln-Way is now 8-3 for the season. Against Oak Lawn, the Knight combination of Terry Ryan, 6-5, and John Pirko, 6-7, paced the win.

Ryan who had been slowed by flu in recent days showed no ill effects against Oak Lawn as he hit for 30 points. Pirko added 26 points, 11 of them coming on 13 efforts from the free throw line.

Pirko and Ryan thus combined to score 56 of the teams 75 points against Oak Lawn. Ryan also grabbed 17 rebounds and Pirko grabbed six off the boards.

While Ryan was the teams biggest name to be hit by the flu bug a number of Knight players have been stricken in recent days. Both of the teams starting guards Greg Heckler and John Schilling have been bothered by the flu but the backcourt pair played well against Oak Lawn.

Against Evergreen the Knights had an easy time of it, but played ragged ball. Lincoln-Way jumped off to a 15-1 lead with 4:03 left in the first quarter, and from then on coach Brad Bounds began to substitute freely for the remainder of the game.

The Knights built up a 26-9 first period lead, as Pirko scored nine of his total of 17 points in the first eight minutes of play. Ryan was the teams top scorer with 22 points.

Friday the Knights get a big test when they host a tough Homewood team in a conference game at 8 p.m.

Titan tankers finally win

PALOS HILLS — The Tinley Park swimming team did something on its first try in 1972 that they hadn't been able to do in seven tries in 1971, WIN.

Friday the Titans beat Stagg 66-29 for their first win in eight outings this season. The Titans competed in the Riverside-Brookfield Invitational tournament Saturday, and accumulated a few points, but no firsts.

Against Stagg the Titans had a pair of relay wins. Winning the medley was: Bill Hanson, Fred Flor, Bill Guilfoyle, and Paul Ercius. The winning time was 1:54.8.

Winning in the freestyle relay were: Jeff Mays, Mike Halpin, Art Littva, and Tom Lightholder. Time was 4:43.

Guilfoyle won the 200-yard individual medley in a time of 2:30.2. Ercius was the 50-yard freestyle winner in 24.8 and Dave Nolan won the diving. Ercius also won the 100-yard freestyle in 57.3; and Guilfoyle won the 100-yard butterfly in a time of 1:02.0.

Hanson won the 100-yard backstroke in 1:08.2. Randy Mays swimming in frosh-soph competition set a Stagg pool record with a time of 1:07.6 in the 1-0-yard backstroke.

The Titans will try for their second win Friday when they host Hillcrest at 4 p.m.

For Sandburg:

Win brings confidence

ORLAND PARK — "If we gained nothing else from the two ball games this weekend we gained that all important positive mental attitude," said Sandburg basketball Coach Ron Patterson. "We proved we could win by beating a sound ballclub," he added.

Well the Eagles did gain something else this weekend. It was a split against the top two teams in Southwest Suburban Conference. On Friday night the Eagle effort fell short in the final quarter as the Homewood Vikings went home victors 55-48.

A tight game all the way, the Eagles trailed by only three points going into the final quarter.

Down by four points with one minute to play the Eagles called time out. After a basket by forward Art Crummie. A basket by the Vikings put the lead back to four before the Eagles handed away a fatal turnover.

Koranda led the Eagles with 12 points. Art Grummie, Randy Bengston, and Dave Lumley chipped in with eight points each.

Saturday the Eagles traveled to Rich East to face the number two team in the Conference. The all round Eagle effort culminated a victory. Instead of being dominated by a team with two of the top scorers in the area, the Eagles held the upper hand in the game with the exception of the fourth quarter when the Rockets pulled to within one point.

Eagle guard Randy Bengston made a couple of key baskets to keep the Eagles on top. Coach Patterson attributed the Eagle trouble in the fourth quarter to "losing our composure and taking some bad shots." "we were just pressing our shots," he said. "The game was a big boost mentally for the players." Coach Patterson said after the win.

Crummie led all scores with 21 points. This week the Eagles face Evergreen Park at home on Friday and then travel to Downers South for a non-conference battle on Saturday.

The past weekend was no cause for celebration as far as the sophomores were considered. They lost both the contests to Homewood and Rich East and dropped their conference record to 2-4, the same record as their varsity counterparts.

The Eagle sophs were never really in the game against Homewood after they had jumped out to a 24-8 first quarter lead. Kerry Pozulp and Jeff Padgett led the Eagles with 11 and 8 points respectively. Saturday's game against Rich was the same story. The final score was 53-38. The sophomores face Evergreen Park and Downers South this weekend.

Celt wrestlers lose two

NEW LENOX — Providence's wrestlers suffered a pair of setbacks last week. The Celts, in their first year of competition at the mat game lost to Chicago Christian 39-18 and Bishop McNamara, 31-21.

Against Bishop McNamara the Celts swept the first six matches and actually led 21-0 at the halfway point, but then lost the last six matches and the meet.

Chris Curtis started things off with a pin at 98-pounds. John Ruettinger, won 5-4 at 105, and Mark Hucek was a 7-5 winner at 112-pounds.

Pat Curtis won 9-5 at 119 pounds, and Francis Ruettinger was a 6-5 winner at 126 pounds. Joe Joutras won 2-0 at 132 pounds for what was to prove the final Celt victory of the day.

McNamara pinned at four of the remaining six weights and picked up another six points on a forfeit at 155 pounds.

Earlier in the week the Celts again took an early lead against Christian only to lose in the final six matches. This time Providence took an 18-6 lead at the halfway point, before the roof caved in.

Curtis won 2-0 and John Ruettinger pinned at 105. Hucek was a 6-5 winner. Curtis was pinned, but Francis Ruettinger won 10-3. Joutras won 11-3 for what again proved to be the final Celts win of the march, as Christian rallied to win.

The Celts now 1-5 for the season

School revamps adult courses

NEW LENOX — As a result of a survey of adults in the Lincoln-Way High School district, the Driver Education and Physical Education departments under the direction of Ronald Stopka, have planned a number of programs they believe will reach the needs of a majority of the citizens.

Courses are planned to meet the needs of the car drivers who will be examined by the state, or who want to learn to drive, or those in need of a refresher course.

The physical education courses are intended for those who wish to get a head start in golf and tennis, or for those who wish to become more active and attractive.

"All programs," Stopka said, "are geared to keep you busy, in shape and to meet new friends."

Those interested in signing for one or more of these courses should register at the school between 7 and 7:30 p.m. Feb. 1. Classes will be held from 7:30 - 9:00 p.m. at the school.

Jerry McGuire will be the golf instructor. For beginners there will be group instruction on grip, stance and swing. One night will be on closed circuit TV so the class can see what they are, or are not, doing.

This course is to run seven weeks and the cost is $10 and is for both men and women. Pupils are to bring a driver, 2, 7, 8 or 9 iron or wedge to the first class.

Another co-ed class is set up for a course in the fundamentals of skiing, with Ronald D. Stopka as instructor. Classroom instruction at Lincoln-Way High will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Feb. 14, 21 and 28. Slope instructions will be given Feb. 20 and 27 at Troy, Wis. The $10 fee for the course does not include equipment, slope fees or transportation.

tation, it was pointed out.

Bill Marco will give instructions in paddleball, tennis and handball, to beginners and intermediate players. Classes will begin Feb. 2 and limited to 10. The fee for the course is $10.

Table tennis, or ping pong also will be taught under the guidance of Roger Marth, sponsor of the L-W Table Tennis Club. There will be two hour sessions, starting Thursday, Feb. 3. The course will run seven weeks and the fee is $10.

There is a badminton class, also starting Feb. 3. It is for women only: will run seven weeks; will cost $10 and run seven weeks. The class will be limited to 15.

Carol Auping is the instructor.

Those in charge have an approach that should be irresistible. It is addressed to women... "become slender and more active and a more attractive you. Feel better about yourself. Through exercise and games learn how to improve and maintain your figure, develop form and grace." This class involves paddleball, gymnastics and volleyball. It is a seven week course, costs $10 and will be directed by Marie Whiteley and Carol Schmitt.

There is to be a co-ed class in standard and advanced courses in first aid directed by Mrs. Sandra Loyer, a qualified Red Cross. These classes will begin Feb. 3. Certificates will be awarded at the end of the course.

There is also a fencing class for women with Judy Robison as instructor. Equipment is furnished. It is a 7-week course with a $10 fee and is limited to 15 persons. Classes begin Feb. 1.

When it comes to auto driving there are a number of courses open. There is one for beginners and includes classroom instruction as well as behind-the-wheel driving.

Group lessons are held on Tuesday nights, beginning Feb. 1. Group lessons are held in class at the school and include safety, rules of the road, films and training. Twelve hours of In-the-car instruction on Saturdays (by appointment) include six hours of actual behind-the-wheel driving. A learning permit is necessary, according to Joe Davis, the instructor. The fee for this course is $40.

A behind-the-wheel refresher course is also available. This course will be given Saturdays in one and a half hour sessions. This course is available through appointment with Ronald Stopka at the school, 485-2511. It will cover four lessons and the fee is $35.

Then there is the drivers license review course — for four weeks starting Feb. 3 for $5, with Bob LeZotte instructor. The course includes Illinois traffic laws, rules of the road, signs, driving simulator to improve skills and correct improper driving habits, plus a road test over an obstacle course.

Dennis Bundy will conduct a course in defensive driving, starting Feb. 2. It runs four weeks and the fee is $5. The aim of this course is to teach how one may avoid accidents through prevention.
